

On March 5th my family took a drive to Truckee for the weekend. We arrived at our cabin, and was amazed at how pretty the snow and the cabin was.

When we got into the cabin the first thing that caught our attention was the view of the backyard.

Once we got settled I out my snow gear on and went outside to explore. I was amazed by how much snow there was.

Not only was our backyard covered in snow, but it was also covered in beautiful tall trees. It was almost like our yard was the woods.

The next morning we all got up early to fresh snow.

We were all super excited because the snow went from spring snow to winter snow overnight.

It was so cool that just the day before there was no snow on the trees, and now they were covered in it.

Once I finished getting ready, I went outside and built a snowman!
